A Biblical Christian Worldview Lost

Let's go ahead and get one harsh, but brutally true statement before us and get it out of the way. At least ninety five percent of the people who claim Christianity today have no clue of what a "Christian" worldview is, or should be! Including myself for many years! Let's take a look at a few scriptures and five major worldviews. You may be surprised how far you are from the Biblical worldview. Worldview, meaning how we view the world and how all facets of our lives should be totally surrendered to God's directions for control and the governing in all spheres of creation.

In Matt. 22:37-40, we are clearly instructed that we must love the Lord our God with every fiber of our being! Nothing reserved! Christ also told us in John 14:15, "If we love Him we will keep His commandments! We are to study His Word in order to "renew" our carnal minds that have been polluted by Satanic teachings that many falsely believe are Christian views. II Tim. 2:15/Rom12:1-2

The Word of God is to be our guide and instruction book on how to "govern" our lives and our society in all aspects! Nothing is left to our will or desires! We should not trust our "understanding" of life's issues! (Prov. 3:5-7)

Let's examine five different areas of our lives that all people deal with daily: politics, economics, education, religion and social issues. I think that everyone who reads the different world views listed will be a little shocked as to how far the "church" has strayed from God's guidelines.

Politics:

Biblical Theism (God is God)

1. Law originates with God. In all spheres of government (family, church, and civil), man's law must align with divine law in order to be valid. God's Law is His word, as written in the Holy Scriptures.

Moderate Christian (God/Man is God)

1. New Testament Grace supersedes Old Testament Law, and has little to contribute to modern political discussion, other than to encourage fairness and integrity. Public policy should be conducted according to natural law.

Secular Humanism (man is God)

1. A secular state is necessary to a free society. Law is interpreted through judicial precedent and social mores, not a fixed, historical standard. There is no single basis of law for every culture.

Socialism (State is God)

1. The State represents the people, provides for them, and oversees all areas of life. The State owns all property in behalf of the people, and distributes wealth and provision equally to all people.

Economics:Biblical Theism (God is God)

1. God has ordained productive labor and private property ownership. The first rule of economics is “You shall not steal.” The second is to maintain honest weights and measures. The third is: If you don’t work, you don’t eat, with certain exceptions for the truly disabled.

Moderate Christian (God/man is God)

1. Individual responsibility is good, but Christian love requires us to help others unconditionally. Both private and charity and government aid are good.

Secular Humanism (Man is God)

1. The state exists to help individuals and businesses who cannot help themselves, through direct regulation and management of the economy. When everyone contributes their “fair share” through progressive taxation, society benefits.

Socialism (State is God)

1. Private-property rights encourage greed and inequity. Economic decisions should be centralized in the State in order to guarantee social justice and livable conditions for everyone.

Education:Biblical Theism (God is God)

1. The purpose of education is that we might know God and obey His commands. Parents are primarily responsible for the education of their children, through both direct instruction and the original procurement of instruction by others of their choosing.

Moderate Christian (God/man is God)

1. Spiritual and secular education are distinct. Children receive academic training at school, whereas spiritual instruction is the responsibility of the family and the Church

Secular Humanism (Man is God)

1. Education is a universal right, and is key to reducing crime and poverty. Everyone has unlimited potential for personal development. The government must ensure that all children are provided equal educational opportunity.

Socialism (State is God)

1. Children are a national resource, and education is the government’s responsibility. Only State schools can ensure common core standards, via common curriculum, and provide an education that aligns with society’s goals.

Religion:Biblical Theism (God is God)

1. Everyone is born in sin and needs a Saviour. Salvation comes through confession of faith in the atoning work of Jesus Christ, as evidenced by genuine repentance. God is knowable only through Christ, and His Holy Scriptures are authoritative for all of life. All who die without Christ will spend eternity in the fires of Hell.

Moderate Christian (God/man is God)

1. Christianity is a relationship with Jesus Christ, not a religion with set requirements. Repentance – if it is necessary – is secondary to grace.

Secular Humanism (Man is God)

1. “Religion” is a personal matter. Organized religion is unimportant, and often dangerous. Absolute truth does not exist. Mankind is accountable only to itself. Personal fulfillment can be found primarily through self-actualization.

Socialism (State is God)

1. Personal religious beliefs are antagonistic to the common good, which can only be ensured by a secular State. The freedom to believe or not believe can only be protected and enforced by a non-biased, secular State.

Social Issues:Biblical Theism (God is God)

1. The Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount are the ethical basis for personal conduct, interpersonal relations, social order, and public policy. They are God's standard for all people, in all cultures, in all generations.

Moderate Christian (God/man is God)

1. Love emphasizes tolerance. Calling the private or public actions of others sinful is judgmental, since only God knows men's hearts.

Secular Humanism (Man is God)

1. Moral standards evolve over time in response to social progress. Majority standards should prevail. Any personal morality is permissible as long as it does not hurt someone else.

Socialism (Man is God)

1. The needs of the individual are less important than the collective needs of the people. Personal conduct must therefore serve the interests of the State.

Now that you have learned how far all, including the church, have strayed from God's will in following His law, statutes and judgments. Let's take a brief look on to how our society and even those who "think" they are following God's Word in their lives have fallen for this damning massive deception.

The answer is actually very simple and easily understood for those who will recognize and accept the truth! Here it is, most who say they love God do not obey His laws! Most will respond with a loud protest denying this factual statement! My reply is, "If we truly were following His law system, why did we get so far away from the righteous Christian worldview? Most people who think they are following God's law fall into the "moderate" category on politics. They have bought the damnable lie that since Christ came, the "law" has been done away with and grace has superseded God's law. So therefore, at best, we basically believe we can live in a culture of compromise with no righteous retribution for ignoring God's laws and His righteous judgment! We wink at sin (I John 3:4) in our personal lives and our family's lives because we don't want to hurt their feelings, or cause a confrontation! We have denied Christ in our lives by tolerating our own law-breaking (disobedience to His laws (John 14:15) and that of our family. In doing so, folks, we have denied Christ before men. We were sternly warned about this in Matt. 10:32-39. Christ Himself plainly told us that He came to divide families and not to bring a "false" peace, verses 34-35. It seems that there is nothing a family member can do to compel a separation between each other. You see, Christ said that we are to separate from them in order for them to see their need of repentance! We are damning them into believing that they are "saved" and in good standing with God, no matter their works, (life choices). As a simple matter of truth, if anyone professes Christianity and is living in direct violation of God's moral laws, we are commanded to have no fellowship with them. Not even to eat with them! (I Cor. 5:9-12). We have miserably failed to obey God whom we say we love. The antinomian (lawless) church is the destroyer of society! Enough said!

A Stolen and Forgotten Birthright

There are countless lessons to be learned from God's Holy Book, the authorized KJV Bible. And it's a sad and sorrowful fact that not many, even of those who call themselves born-again believers, learn, but very few of them in a lifetime. Mostly because they are too lazy to do what His Word instructs them to do in II Tim 2:15 "study to show themselves "approved" unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth." Therefore, almost all of those who called themselves the "called out ones", the Church, have been extremely easy for the great deceiver and father of lies to deceive and destroy the authority, power, duty and witness of His people. Hos 4:16 clearly states this fact and includes a curse on the children of the lazy and apathetic. Stop and look around you. Are the children following a Godly path? How about your children and grandchildren? Although we are promised in Prov. 22:6 that if we take the time to teach them God's Word, statutes and laws that when they become adults, they will stay in them. But of course, this means that the parents must know and obey them themselves! Obviously, we didn't and still have not! Enough said on that point. The next verse helps us understand how we let God's law slip from us. The more we have "increased", - prospered materially, the more we forget God and His Word!

Now, we are going to look at what has to be one of the most important lessons that we have forgotten and allowed to be stolen from us. The wonderful birthright that has been given us through the saving grace of Jesus Christ our Savior! You will notice that I didn't say Savior and Lord simply because, for the far larger part of those who trust Him for salvation, He is not their Lord! At least not in entirety! We say He is, we give Him "lip" service, but our lives show differently! I know that I have been guilty of this simple truth in the past and I'm certain that in some areas, through ignorance, still am. We can claim His precious grace for our ignorance! But know this! Once we are enlightened with the truth and continue in "open, knowing" sin, grace becomes of none affect without a heart-felt repentance and turning away from that sin! (James 4:17/ Heb. 10:26-31). So, if you don't want to be accountable for what you are about to learn, stop reading now. Of course, then you will be guilty of being willfully ignorant. (Rom. 1:18-22/ II Pet. 3:6)

Let's begin to reclaim our stolen and forgotten birthright! In Gen. 25 we are told that Esau "sold" his birthright for a piece of bread and a bowl of lentil soup! The Scriptures tell us that he "despised" his birthright, which means that he disesteemed and scorned it! In Gen. 27 and Heb. 12 we are further told that when he came before his father Isaac to receive his birthright, which was rightfully his for being the eldest son, he could not and did not receive it. Although he repented and wept bitterly, it was too late for him! He had made an intentional agreement (contract or covenant) with Jacob that was lawfully binding, so there was no room for repentance! What a loss for a "temporary" pleasure just to please his flesh! (Heb. 11:25)

In John 10:10 we are told that the thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. The rest of the verse tells us that Christ came that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly! Unfortunately, we have allowed (given authority) for the thief to steal the knowledge of our birthright purchased for us by Christ through our ignorance and apathy!

In John 1:12 we are given such a wonderful promise and gift by adoption into God's family through Christ that we simply no longer understand and claim. We are given "power" which means permission and authority to exercise for God's glory.

Rom. 8:14-18 we are told that as many as are led by the spirit of, they are the sons of God. We have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we can call Jehovah God our Father! The Spirit bears witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God, joint heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ! If we are willing to suffer with Him! A promise of birthright!

Oh, the precious promises and blessings that are ours through Christ. If we only would understand and claim them! In Col. 1:12-14, when we come to the saving knowledge of redemption in Christ, we are then delivered from the power of darkness, and translated (moved into) the Kingdom of His dear Son! We are now under the authority of our new King! His Kingdom law system must hold our total allegiance if we expect His blessings!

We must understand and accept the fact that when you change kingdoms and law systems, you automatically become the enemy of the kingdom you left! (John 15:18-19) We are warned that when you are redeemed and placed into Christ's Kingdom, that obeying him will lead to persecution! (II Tim 3:12) We are given another precious promise in Rom. 8:18 that whatever we may suffer for the glory of God, that those sufferings are not worth counting in being compared with the glory that will be revealed to us! Praise God! Let's remember that Peter said in Acts 5:29 that we ought to obey God rather than men and that we should rejoice that we are counted worthy to suffer shame for Christ's name (Acts 5:41). As a matter of fact, another blessing is that our persecutions and tribulations that we may endure is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God that we may be counted worthy of the Kingdom of God, for which we may suffer.

Let's look at one more very important verse and precious promise given to His redeemed! This promise definitely nails the fact down that we are not subject to any man, kingdom or government that will require us to disobey a godless mandate or law! As we have already stated, when you are "born again" by grace through faith in Christ you become a Child of God! A joint heir with Christ! Translated from the kingdom of darkness into Christ and His Kingdom of Light! And now for the most powerful proof of all! And don't forget, that with these blessings comes great duties and responsibilities! In Phil. 3:20 it says, "For our "conversation" is in Heaven; from whence also we look for the Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ." I feel most certain that 95% of readers of this verse has no real idea of what the word conversation actually means. Folks, in the Strong's Concordance Webster 4175, it says we are citizens of Heaven! Citizens with all the birthrights, blessings, promises, protections and duties of citizenship! Now "ain't" that beautiful and powerful?! Let's live like who we are supposed to be!

One final very important point to make in closing, is found in the last chapter of Ecclesiastes, the last two verses of the chapter. After a man of great wisdom discussed just about all matters and areas of life, he came to his final answer for all issues of life. Here it is, "Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep His commandments: for this is the whole duty of man. For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil."

Reclaim your birthright in and through Christ and oppose Satan's kingdom, governments and minions! Speak up, stand up and confront and rebuke evil! Ephesians 5:11

We need your help

I am making a request to all of the Protestant faith who believe that abortion is wrong and to take a stand for the lives of the most innocent among us....little pre-born babies.

I have talked with a good number of the pastors here, in the past, who said that they were pro-life. However, our small, anti-abortion team have been on the streets the past four years, making people aware of what abortion truly is. When people pass by and see the signs which we display weekly, our hope and prayers have been that others who say they are pro-life would stop and assist us in our life saving efforts.

Are you willing to put your faith into action? The Lord will be with you. If you are a person who wants to know how you can help, please stop and talk with me. We are on the street every Wednesday from 9am to 10am across from the Chamber of Commerce. We can bring this tragedy to an end right here in this county if we work together.

Baptist Pastor Defends Killing Babies in Abortions: “Jesus Did Not Say Judge Your Neighbor”

National | Micaiah Bilger | Sep 20, 2021 | 5:45PM | Washington, DC

A Baptist pastor claimed that supporting the killing of unborn babies in abortions is a form of “loving your neighbor” this week in a TIME magazine piece.

Lauren Jones Mayfield, a pastor and abortion activist in Kentucky, condemned the new Texas heartbeat law while lifting up her own pro-abortion counseling work as truly “loving” and Christ-like.

she is a witch! women cannot be leaders in the church!

“I know firsthand who suffers when politicians attempt to limit the right of every person to determine whether, when and how to become parents,” she began, neglecting the fact that mothers who have abortions are already parents of unborn babies.

Mayfield slammed lawmakers for passing the pro-life law, saying they should instead focus on laws that “help keep people safe.” In her opinion, which is contrary to Christianity, unborn babies are not people yet.

The Texas heartbeat law went into effect Sept. 1, prohibiting abortions once an unborn baby’s heartbeat is detectable, about six weeks of pregnancy. Pro-life leaders estimate as many as 100 babies are being saved from abortion every day as a result.

Click Like if you are pro-life to like the LifeNews Facebook page!

Unique from other states, the Texas law includes a private enforcement mechanism that allows people to file lawsuits against abortionists who violate the law and those who help them.

Mayfield wrongly described it as a cruel, judgmental provision that allows people to “sue their neighbor.”

“In my faith tradition, Jesus commands us to love one another. Jesus did not admonish his followers to judge their neighbor, to shame their neighbor or to keep watch that their neighbors follow the law. Jesus certainly did not invite his followers to sue their neighbor,” she wrote.

However, the legislation does not just let anyone sue anyone; and it specifically exempts the mother from punishment. The law simply allows private citizens to hold abortionists and those who help them accountable for killing unborn babies in violation of the law.

But to Mayfield, an unborn baby is not a valuable human being worthy of love and protection.

She wrote:

A young woman once called me from her college dorm room in tears, overwhelmed by an unexpected pregnancy. Her conservative religious parents had abandoned her, and she was scared that God would too. She asked me for reassurance that she was still loved. As a pastor and as a Christian, I knew it was my duty to offer her the love of God. Those in fear and despair should never be abandoned, and we certainly should never pass laws that prevent us from showing love and care to our neighbors.

Love means supporting people as they make the reproductive decisions that are right for them. Love means standing by our neighbors as they determine the most intimate and personal parts of their lives. To love them is to trust them. Let's choose love.

Mayfield said she represents "tens of thousands of clergy around the country who strongly support" abortion, believing it to be a "moral issue and a calling supported by our faith's first teaching to do no harm and love our neighbors."

But an abortion does the opposite. It intentionally and unnecessarily kills a unique, irreplaceable baby in the womb, a human being who Christians believe is created in the image of God.

True, Christ-like love means supporting mother and child and doing what is right even when it is difficult. Christianity condemns child sacrifice and recognizes the value of children both before and after they are born. It commands people to care for the most vulnerable in society, especially widows and orphans.

Texas is doing that. While banning abortions, pro-life advocates across the state also are reaching out to pregnant and parenting mothers with compassion and understanding, offering resources and emotional support to help them and their babies. Earlier this year, state lawmakers increased support for pregnant and parenting families, ensuring that mothers have resources to choose life for their babies.

I Have a Dream

By D. F. Lein

Dr. Martin Luther King preached his famous “I Have a Dream” speech on August 28, 1963 in Washington, D.C., which has become iconic in American history. He enumerated what he would have liked to see become a reality with equal rights and attitudes among the races in the future of our nation.

Recently, I have been doing some dreaming of my own, of things my heart longs to see. Things that truly seem improbable, if not impossible. Things that seem like a long shot. Yes, I believe with God, all things are possible. Yet, just because God is able does not necessarily mean it is His will, and if He has declared something in His Word, then His Word takes precedence.

With all my heart, I believe we are in the Last Days as prophesied in the Bible. We see the evidence all around us – not just in one or two areas, but in all areas. Second Timothy chapter 3 describes it well.

Still, there is a fire within me – a fire for God and His righteousness, ways, and truth – that longs to see Him glorified in as many ways as can be possible, one more time, before the end of the age is wrapped up!

I Too Have a Dream!

I have a dream that pastors and church leaders would get a holy fire in their belly, like Jeremiah, that could not be contained. And that once again, they would preach fiery, soul-stirring messages from the pulpits, and in the open spaces, like the preachers of old. These sermons would awaken a sleeping and dying church that is self-satisfied, and unaware of its blind, anemic, spiritual condition. I dream that instead of shutting down for fear of a virus or so-called pandemic, that the only fear they had was the Fear of God and the keeping of His commands.

I dream of a fire sweeping across this nation: a fire of repentance, revival, and true holiness. One that would cause men and women to cry out for their souls. I dream of God raising up men of no-compromise like Jonathan Edwards, George Whitefield, Charles Finney, and Asahel Nettleton, to preach His Word with unction. Preaching sermons that would shut the whiskey mills and bars, the theatres and present day dens of iniquity. Also, men like Mordecai Ham and Rolfe Barnard, as well as David Wilkerson and Leonard Ravenhill, causing hearts to be broken and changed; lives to be converted; and Holy Ghost fire to fall across our communities.

I dream of tent revival meetings returning to the forgotten towns and villages of America, and that people would flock to them because they were desperate for a word from God. No longer would they be satisfied wasting time in the evenings with their cell phones and televisions, but they would finish their daily work to get to the meetings to have their hearts stirred by the Word of the Almighty. Sermons would once again thunder with warnings of Hell and the judgment to come!

I dream that churches, businesses, and homes that fly the rainbow flag would repent, and that the thought of “gay pride” would be unthinkable. June would be reclaimed for Jesus Christ, not taken over by sexual deviants. “Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall.” (Proverbs 16:18)

I dream that children would return to the ways of their parents, obeying and honoring Dad and Mom (Exodus 20:12) – as a result of their parents truly getting right with God, and not as hypocrites. “Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it.” (Proverbs 22:6)

I dream that God will raise up more men with backbone in this nation – some of whom write for the Wisconsin Christian News and other publications. Men like Coach Dave, Pastor Matt Trewella, Pastor Butch Paugh, Pastor Chuck Baldwin – these are men that have encouraged me and chided me to be a true man for Christ. They’ve given me the kick that I need and challenged me in this day of weak, sissified boys. As a result, I dream of Godly men assuming the true role of leader and head of the home. I dream that wives will become ladies again, feminine from their core and with a quiet heart of strong support for their husbands, and being the help-meet that God designed them to be. In turn, I long for husbands across America to man-up and to love and take care of their wives, and become a beacon to their children, both by example and appropriate disciplinary measures. I dream to see a return of the old-fashioned family altar.

I dream of the mid-week prayer meeting returning to Bible-believing churches throughout America, and that the so-called liberal churches that go by various names such as seeker-sensitive, emergent, social-justice, etc. would shut down due to lack of interest, and increased Biblical literacy. I dream that “Christians” – both clergy and laity – would stop questioning the Bible when it doesn’t fit their particular beliefs or goals. Rather, we’d see mass repentance from man-centered humanism in the pulpits, and a return to “Thus Sayeth the Lord!”

I dream that the killing of little babies in butcher mills, also known as abortion providers, would be run out of town, and the perpetrators arrested and tried for murder (yes, I said that!). But with that, churches across this land would be at the forefront of helping pregnant mothers with their needs, and embracing those babies as if they were their own.

I dream of such a revival that the government would be afraid of the church – the true church of Bible believing disciples headed by Godly fiery pastors – and that Romans 13 would stop being used as an excuse for elevating government to deity status. We'd see a return akin to the attitude of the Apostle Peter: "We ought to obey God rather than men." (Acts 5:29)

Does anyone else reading this share this dream, or even part of it? Can we be doing more to make it a reality? The missionary C. T. Studd famously said: "Only one life t'will soon be past. Only what's done for Christ will last." If that is true, why are we Christians wasting our time on nonsense? James says: "But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves." (James 1:22)

It has been said "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing." And proverbs states: "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." (Proverbs 14:34) As Christians, we should hunger for God's righteousness enough to risk everything to obtain it and promote it. If a baby is inside a burning building, there is no time to wait and think about rescuing it until a more convenient time. The urgency of the matter requires immediate action. Yes, we need to pray for revival – in our churches and in our nation – but we also need to be "doers of the word." Let's become the righteousness that we desire to see. It starts with repentance, but doesn't end there. It's a complete lifestyle change, and rekindling of the old paths. A return to our Lord and Saviour as if everything depends on it. Because it indeed does.

I'm not going to stop dreaming. But with His help, I'm going to do more than just dream. In this world that hates Christ, with the Holy Ghost's help, I'm ready to say "enough" to my own security and comfort. I'm counting the cost, and He's revealed to me it's worth it. He (Jesus Christ) is worth it! For His glory! One more time! "And then shall the end come!" (Matthew 24:14)

Chuck Baldwin, Dates that Destroyed America, 1865-2016

Introduction by Jonas E. Alexis, VT Editor

Dr. Chuck Baldwin is an American politician and has been involved in at least 12 full-length documentary films. He was the presidential nominee of the Constitution Party for the 2008 U.S. presidential election and had previously been its nominee for U.S. vice president in 2004. He is also a pastor of Liberty Fellowship in Kalispell, Montana.

JEA: Dr. Chuck Baldwin continues to be an acquired taste, and he still has enough things to say that will either make you upset or make you think about the directions in which America is going.

Feel free to disagree and write your reasonable comments. But Baldwin is a man of good will, and we should make every effort to associate with people like him. Baldwin is not a pessimist, but he is not naive either.

April 9, 1865

This is the date when General Robert E. Lee surrendered the Army of Northern Virginia to Ulysses S. Grant at Appomattox Court House, Virginia. Regardless of where one comes down on the subject of the War Between the States, one fact is undeniable: Abraham Lincoln seriously dismantled the Jeffersonian model of federalism in America.

Ever since Lincoln's presidency, virtually every battle that free men have fought for the principles of limited government, State sovereignty, personal liberty, etc., has stemmed directly from Lincoln's usurpation of power and subjugation and forced union of what used to be "Free and Independent States" (the Declaration of Independence). In fact, the philosophical battles being waged today regarding every encroachment upon liberty and State autonomy by our federal government have their roots in Lincoln's autocracy.

July 9, 1868

This is the date when the Fourteenth Amendment was ratified. This amendment codified into law what Lincoln had forced at bayonet point. Until then, people were deemed citizens of their respective states. The Constitution nowhere referred to people as "U.S. citizens." It only recognized "the Citizens of each State."

Notice also that citizenship was only recognized among the "several States," not among people living in non-State territories. Until the Fourteenth Amendment, people were "Citizens of each State." (Article IV, Section 2, Paragraph 1.) The Fourteenth Amendment created a whole new class of persons: "citizens of the United States." This false notion of "one nation" overturned the Jeffersonian principle that America was a confederated republic, a voluntary union of states.

February 3, 1913

This is the date when the Sixteenth Amendment was ratified and the personal income tax and IRS were instituted. This was a flagrant repudiation of freedom principles. What began as a temporary measure to support the War of Northern Aggression became a permanent income revenue stream for an unconstitutional—and ever-growing—central government.

April 8, 1913

This is the date when the Seventeenth Amendment was ratified. This amendment overturned the right of the State legislatures to elect their own senators and replaced it with a direct, popular vote. This was another serious blow against State sovereignty. The framers of the Constitution desired that the influence and power in Washington, D.C., be kept as close to the people and states as possible.

For example, the number of representatives in the House of Representatives was to be decided by a limited number of voters. In the original Constitution, the ratio of "people of the several States" deciding their House member could not exceed "one for every thirty thousand." (Article. I. Section. 2. Paragraph. 3.) And when it came to the US Senate, the framers recognized the authority of each State legislature to select its own senators, thereby keeping power and influence from aggregating in Washington, D.C.

The Seventeenth Amendment seriously damaged the influence and power of the states by forcing them to elect their U.S. senators by popular vote. Senators who answered to State legislators, each answering to a limited number of voters, were much more accountable to the "citizens of the several States" than those who are elected by a large number (most states now numbering into the millions) of people. For all intents and purposes, U.S. senators are more like "mini-presidents" than representatives of sovereign states.

December 23, 1913

This is the date when the Federal Reserve Act was passed. This Act placed oversight of America's financial matters into the hands of a cabal of private international bankers who have completely destroyed the constitutional principles of sound money and (for the most part) free enterprise. No longer would the marketplace (private consumption, thrift, growth, etc.) be the determinant of the U.S. economy—which is what freedom is all about.

But now a private, unaccountable, international banking cartel would have total power and authority to micromanage (for their own private, parochial purposes) America's financial sector. Virtually every recession, depression, and downturn this country has ever had (including the Great Depression) was the direct result of the Fed's manipulation of the financial markets.

1913 was not a good year for the United States or for freedom.

June 26, 1945

This is the date when the United Nations Charter was signed and America joined the push for global government. It is no accident that America has not fought a constitutionally declared war since we entered the UN—and neither have we won one.

Furthermore, it is America's involvement in the United Nations that has spawned this pathetic push for a New World Order that George H.W. Bush, Henry Kissinger, Tony Blair, Walter Cronkite, et al., have talked so much about.

The United Nations is an anti-America institution that works aggressively and constantly against the interests and principles of the United States. But it is an institution that is ensconced in the American political infrastructure.

Like a cancer, the UN eats away at our liberties and values and both major political parties in Washington, D C , are equally culpable in allowing it to exert so much influence over our country

May 14, 1948

This is the date that the Zionist State of Israel was created. Nothing has blinded America's pastors and Christians like the advent of the modern State of Israel. And I was just as blinded as anyone about this subject for most of my life. And anyone who wants to better understand why I have taken the position on Israel that I have now should be sure to read my postscript at the end of this column.

Many—if not most—pastors and Christians believe that modern Israel is a fulfillment of Bible prophecy preceding the appearance of Christ (as I used to believe). But it is much more likely that this faux Israel is a devilish counterfeit preceding the appearance of antichrist.

Since the creation of the Zionist State of Israel in 1948, nothing has influenced and even dominated American politics, government, business (especially banking), the mainstream media, and the entertainment industry more—and all for the WORSE.

August 16, 1954

This is the date that the infamous Johnson Amendment to the 501c3 tax code was signed into law by President Dwight David Eisenhower. This review from Regent University accurately summarizes the Johnson Amendment:

"The Amendment appears to be nothing more than an attempt by a powerful senator [Lyndon Johnson, D-TX] to silence political opponents that he feared were hurting his chances for reelection. Johnson knew how to work the system and inserted his Amendment into a large tax overhaul bill. There was no referral to a committee for further study and hearings.

There was no legislative analysis of the effect of the Amendment on tax-exempt organizations. And there was certainly no attempt to understand the effect that the Amendment might have on constitutional rights, especially those of churches and other religious organizations.

The Johnson Amendment plainly targets speech because it prohibits statements that are published or distributed, yet Congress made no attempt to reconcile the Johnson Amendment with the First Amendment. There was absolutely no discussion at all of the First Amendment.

and Johnson's Amendment simply sailed through Congress as a small addition to a popular tax overhaul bill." (Regent University Law Review, Volume 24, 2011-2012, Number 2)

Nothing has done more to gag America's pulpits and churches like the repressive speech restrictions of the 501c3 non-profit tax status instituted under the Johnson Amendment. And nothing has done more to destroy America than these gagged and muted pulpits and churches.

June 25, 1962, and June 17, 1963

These are the dates when the U.S. Supreme Court removed prayer ('62) and Bible reading ('63) from public schools. Think of it: since the time that our forebears settled this continent, children had been free to pray and read the Scriptures in their various schools. We're talking about a period of more than 300 years.

Of course, the State legislatures—and the vast majority (if not all) of municipal and county governmental meetings—still open their sessions in prayer, as do the U.S. House and Senate and even the U.S. Supreme Court. But this same liberty is denied the students of America's public schools.

There is no question that America has not recovered from these two horrific Supreme Court decisions. And since the federal government expelled God from our public schools, it has been methodically expelling God from virtually all of our public life.

November 22, 1963

This is the date that President John F. Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas, Texas. For all intents and purposes, the American people lost control of their government with the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963.

With the exception of Ronald Reagan, every President since Kennedy has been completely controlled by the establishment elite that ordered Kennedy's murder.

A retired Air Force Brigadier General friend of mine (who, before he retired, probably flew every jet the Air Force had and who had been assigned to both the White House and Pentagon during his illustrious career) told me in no uncertain terms that he was convinced that President Kennedy was assassinated by government insiders (with the help of the mob, of course) for two reasons: 1) he intended to disband the CIA, and 2) he intended to dismantle the Federal Reserve.

The assassination of President Kennedy and subsequent cover-up was much more than a killing; it was a coup.

October 22, 1968

This is the date when President Lyndon Baines Johnson signed the Gun Control Act of 1968. Before this Act, the Second Amendment was alive and well in the United States. The Gun Control Act of 1968 turned a right into a privilege and forever forced the American people to bow at the altar of government when seeking to exercise their God-ordained duty of self-defense. Interestingly enough, Johnson's Gun Control Act of 1968 borrowed heavily from Hitler's Gun Control Act of 1938.

Our Founding Fathers could have never imagined that the American people would ever allow their right to keep and bear arms be infringed as they are today. In fact, it was the attempted confiscation of firearms cached at Concord, Massachusetts, that triggered the War of Independence on April 19, 1775. Pastor Jonas Clark and his Lexington Minutemen must be turning over in their graves at the egregiously restrictive gun control laws imposed in their beloved State of Massachusetts today.

The hundreds and hundreds of draconian gun control laws that currently plague the American people—and that have cost thousands of American lives (including the 1993 Brady Bill)—have all come about as a result of Johnson's Gun Control Act of 1968.

January 22, 1973

This is the date when the U.S. Supreme Court issued the Roe v. Wade and Doe v. Bolton decisions, which, in effect, legalized abortion-on-demand and has resulted in the legal murders of nearly 60 million innocent, unborn babies. Imagine: since these two Supreme Court decisions, more innocent human beings have been killed in the United States than were killed in the holocaust of Nazi Germany or in the great purges of Stalin's Russia or in the communist revolution of Mao's China.

The Roe and Doe decisions expunged the Jeffersonian principle that all men are endowed by their Creator with the unalienable right to life (Declaration). These decisions opened the door to a host of big-government programs and policies that have resulted in the wanton destruction of human life both in the United States and overseas.

It has created an entire industry whose express purpose for existing is the destruction of human life. It has desensitized the conscience and soul of America. Furthermore, it has forced men of decency and good will to finance—with their tax dollars—the unconscionable act of killing unborn children.

And, once again, another Jeffersonian principle was eviscerated. He said, "To compel a man to furnish contributions of money for the propagation of ideas which he disbelieves and abhors is sinful and tyrannical." The Roe and Doe decisions violate this principle in the most egregious manner possible.

December 8, 1993

This is the date that President Bill Clinton signed the job-killing, manufacturing industry-gutting, anything-but-free-trade bill, The North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA), into law. NAFTA had been ceremonially signed by President George H.W. Bush on December 17, 1992. The U.S. House of Representatives passed it on November 17, 1993, and the U.S. Senate passed it on November 20, 1993.

According to the Economic Policy Institute, "The North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) was the door through which American workers were shoved into the neoliberal global labor market.

"By establishing the principle that U.S. corporations could relocate production elsewhere and sell back into the United States, NAFTA undercut the bargaining power of American workers, which had driven the expansion of the middle class since the end of World War II. The result has been 20 years of stagnant wages and the upward redistribution of income, wealth and political power."

"Second, NAFTA strengthened the ability of U.S. employers to force workers to accept lower wages and benefits."

“Third, the destructive effect of NAFTA on the Mexican agricultural and small business sectors dislocated several million Mexican workers and their families, and was a major cause in the dramatic increase in undocumented workers flowing into the U.S. labor market.”

“Fourth, and ultimately most important, NAFTA was the template for rules of the emerging global economy, in which the benefits would flow to capital and the costs to labor. The U.S. governing class—in alliance with the financial elites of its trading partners—applied NAFTA’s principles to the World Trade Organization, to the policies of the World Bank and IMF, and to the deal under which employers of China’s huge supply of low-wage workers were allowed access to U.S. markets in exchange for allowing American multinational corporations the right to invest there.”

September 11, 2001

This is the date that the Twin Towers in New York City and Pentagon in Washington, D.C., were attacked. It is very difficult to not notice the Orwellian reaction by the federal government in Washington, D.C., to the 9/11 attacks—whoever was responsible—including:

- *The creation of the Department of Homeland Security
- *The passage of the USA Patriot Act
- *The passage of the Military Commissions Act
- *The invasions of Iraq and Afghanistan
- *The exponential escalation of the global (and endless) “war on terror”
- *The rise of burgeoning Police State within the United States

But many people (including experts) are firmly convinced that the attacks on 9/11 were carried out or at least facilitated by elements within our own government. Which, if that is the case, would constitute the greatest conspiratorial hoax against the American people since Kennedy’s assassination.

October 26, 2001

This is the date when President George W. Bush signed the USA Patriot Act and the federal government’s war against individual liberty began in earnest. This is the exact same bill that Bill Clinton and Al Gore tried to push through a Republican Congress during the 1990s but were unable to do, because Republicans said the bill was “unconstitutional.”

But it was those same Republicans who passed this same bill in 2001, because it was now being proposed by a Republican administration. That’s how these pathetic politicians from both parties play this game, folks.

Most of the unconstitutional eavesdropping, snooping, wiretapping, phone-call-intercepting, email-reading, prying, financial-records-tracking, travel-watching, ad infinitum, ad nauseam by federal police agencies began with the implementation of the Patriot Act.

The Department of Homeland Security, the “war on terror,” and the usurpation of local and State power at home have all come about as an outgrowth of the Patriot Act. The Patriot Act forever shifted the focus of American law and jurisprudence away from constitutional government and individual liberty and toward a police-state mentality.
